

VANESSA VAN PETTEN

Special Parent Event at Yom Limmud

youthologist | teen whisperer | CNN columnist | author | founder radicalparenting.com

Text Me When Dinner's Ready:

Learn How to Communicate and Decode Your Teen

Have you ever wished you could have a translator for your teen? As our children get more technologically savvy, parents have to learn to keep up...and keep their kids safe. Vanessa Van Petten presents groundbreaking research and anecdotes on how to communicate and build trust with your teen even in a digital world. She also covers how parents can deal with lying, drama queens and even sulky teens. Vanessa gives practical solutions to parents who want to build a relationship with their children as they get older. Her humorous stories and insightful advice show parents how they can raise resilient teens.

JOIN US:

Come to a special event with Vanessa Van Petten, PARENT KEYNOTE SPEAKER at Yom Limmud: Day of Discovery for Jewish Teens.

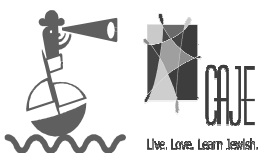

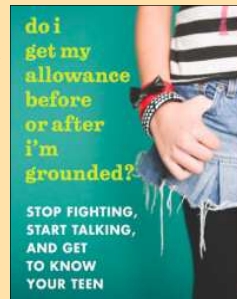

Sunday, November 20, 2011
10:00 - 11:30 a.m.
Shaare Emeth

All parents who want to improve communication with their teens are invited.

Vanessa Van Petten is the creator of RadicalParenting.com, a parenting website written from the teen perspective to help parents understand them. She is also the author of the parenting book, Do I Get My Allowance Before or After I'm Grounded?

Books are now available for purchase:
Contact Maxine Weil 314.442.3757 or mweil@cajestl.org

Get a copy of Vanessa's book

Yom Limmud Teen-only sessions for 8-12th graders will occur from 9:45 a.m.-12:30 p.m. The Parent-only Event with Vanessa will be separate from these sessions from 10-11:30 a.m. Yom Limmud is sponsored by CAJE (a beneficiary agency of the Jewish Federation of St. Louis), your local BBYO, JSU, NCSY, NFTY & USY chapters, and the St. Louis Jewish Educators and Youth Professionals Councils